Romney Back From Utah, Set For Busy Week

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney returns from Utah today facing one of his busiest weekly schedules since his grass-roots campaign to sell fiscal reform to the public across Michigan.

The schedule will carry him to Traverse City, Ionia and Washington, D. C.

It includes six addresses to public gatherings, four visits to state institutions or offices, three major conferences on state matters, a reception and a dance.

After a morning of Capitol routine Monday, Romney goes to Traverse City for an afternoon of official visits to institutions — Northwestern Michigan University and State Hospital — and an evening of politics.

He will attend a reception at the home of State Sen. William Milliken, R-Traverse City, and later introduce U. S. Sen. Thurston Morton, R-Ky., at a testimonial dinner for U. S. Rep. Robert Griffin, R-Mich.

Tuesday will be filled with an official visit to state offices in Lansing, a meeting of the State Administrative Board, and a welcoming address to the convention of the Michigan State Association of Supervisors.

Romney attends a meeting on cigarette smoking Wednesday in Lansing before leaving for Ionia, where he will visit the reformatory and address the Ionia Chamber of Commerce.

Thursday he will attend to state business in the morning and then leave for the Council of State Governments meeting in Washington, where he will address the Michigan Regional Foundry conference and his Saturday schedule includes a country club dinner dance honoring Elly Peterson, assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Drive Dropped To Curb Lobbyists In Lansing

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has given up—at least for 1964—his campaign for legislation to regulate the activities of Capitol lobbyists.

The chief reason, according to aides to the attorney general, is a lack of "legislative sentiment."

It is acknowledgement of the fact that prospects for such a bill apparently are no better this year than in 1962 and 1963, when legislation to regulate the so-called "third house" died in committee.

"It's gone absolutely nowhere the past two years," admitted Deputy Atty. Gen. Leon Cohan.

"We have decided to concentrate on other matters this year."

Still dedicated to closer controls on the lobbyists is Rep. Joseph Gillis, D-Detroit, who has introduced a bill that would require them to file annual financial reports with the secretary of state.

Gillis concedes, however, that it would take "a major state scandal" to build enough sentiment for stiffer restrictions on the 200 or so lobbyists in Lansing.

"Our present law arose from a scandal (the Carr-Sigler grand jury investigation) in 1947," said

Gillis. "I guess it takes something of that kind to get a bill through."

Kelley's push for lobbyist-control legislation resulted from the uproar in late 1962 about lobbying activities during the fight over fiscal reform.

The attorney general stated his case by saying there was "an urgent need to close the influence gap between influence possessed by some lobbyists and that of individual citizens."

The apparent futility of introducing lobbyist-control legislation suggests that the lobbyists themselves work feverishly to have the bills defeated.

But lobbyists themselves say such activity isn't necessary. "I've never had to work against any of these bills," said one veteran of the Capitol hallway. "I'm aware that they are introduced, and that's about as far as it goes."

Embassy Staff Is Evacuated To Canal Zone

PANAMA (AP) — U.S. Embassy personnel were housed safely in the Canal Zone today after Panama took the final step in severing diplomatic relations with the United States.

Meanwhile, Soviet Premier Khrushchev threw Soviet support behind the Panamanians and denounced U.S. action in the Canal Zone.

Most U.S. Embassy staff members and their dependents were evacuated to the Canal Zone Friday night shortly before an anti-American student demonstration and several hours after Panama said it was recalling the remainder of its diplomatic staff from Washington.

Break Not Final

Panama asked the United States to recall its embassy staff from Panama City, but a U.S. State Department official said the request did not apply to consular officials, Peace Corps volunteers or members of the U.S. Agency for International Development.

Because of the exceptions, the United States does not regard the break as final. U.S. officials also indicated that President Johnson's troubleshooter, Edwin M. Martin, planned to remain in Panama. Peace efforts are expected to continue to loosen a deadlock between the two countries over a 1903 treaty which gave the United States perpetual control over the canal.

President Robert Chiari ordered a break in diplomatic relations with the United States Jan. 10—a day after violence erupted on the Canal Zone—but retained some of his diplomatic staff in Washington.

Castro Lind Denied

The Panamanian government asked Costa Rica to handle Panamanian interests in the United States. Costa Rica also will handle diplomatic matters for the United States in Panama.

Khrushchev, touring a textile factory in Kalinin, 100 miles northwest of Moscow, with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, ridiculed charges that last week's riots in the Canal Zone were staged by pro-Castro Communists.

"It was not comrade Castro who organized the events in Panama," Khrushchev said. "These events are a result of the predatory policy of United States imperialists in Panama."

In the Canal Zone, memorial services were conducted for four American soldiers killed in last week's riots which also claimed the lives of 19 Panamanians.

First Spaceman Has Operation

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—America's first man in space, Alan B. Shepard Jr., was reported in excellent condition after undergoing surgery Friday for removal of a small non-malignant growth from his thyroid gland.

The operation was considered fully successful and will not affect Shepard's flying status, said Paul Haney, public affairs officer for the Manned Spacecraft Center.

"The surgery involved removal of about 20 per cent of the thyroid gland but tissue tests showed no malignancy," Haney said. "It is anticipated the operation will have no effect on his status as an astronaut."

"He is in excellent condition. He's a little groggy but chipper and in good humor," Haney said after the 75-minute operation.

The 40-year-old Navy commander launched the U.S. manned space program by making a 254-mile suborbital flight in his Freedom 7 capsule on May 5, 1961.

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Anthony DeAngelis, central figure in a $100-million vegetable-oil scandal, was in jail today charged with defrauding a tank-storage concern of nearly $46.5 million.

Also in jail, similarly charged, was Joseph Lomuscio, a former employee of the storage firm.

Superior Court Judge Robert Matthews originally set bail for each at $46,499,295.63, the amount allegedly owed the plaintiff. Later, after hearing pleas from the defendants' lawyers, he agreed to reduce the bail to $150,000 for DeAngelis and $100,000 for Lomuscio.

Matthews said he had granted the reduction on the condition that the two men appear Monday in his court and submit to an examination of their assets. Neither could post bond, and both were taken to jail.

DeAngelis, president of Allied Crude Vegetable Oil Refining Corp. of Bayonne, which went bankrupt two months ago, and Lomuscio were arrested Friday on a complaint filed by Joseph M. Nolan, trustee in bankruptcy for Harbor Tank Storage Co. of West New York.

Harbor Tank was one of a half dozen companies that went bankrupt in the wake of Allied's financial collapse. More than 50 companies have been affected.

Mackie Planning To Be On Ticket

LANSING (AP) — Highway Commissioner John Mackie said Friday he will be a candidate in the Democratic primary this year and that he will decide "in two or three weeks" whether it will be for congress or governor.

If he chose congress, he said, he would seek to represent the new 7th District, which includes Genesee County — where he lived before his 1957 election as highway commissioner — and Shiawassee and Lapeer Counties.

Mackie now lives on a farm south of Lansing near Holt in Ingham County.

Previously the question of a federal appointment had clouded the issue of whether Mackie would be a state candidate, but he said Friday that the rumored proposed appointment now is "out of the picture."

Meanwhile, a former state representative, now working for a unit of local government, declared that Mackie has a guarantee from a group of highway contractors that they would underwrite his campaign if he decides to run for governor.

"They want him to run for governor," said the informant, who asked that his name not be used because "it might cost me my job."

"They want Mackie to run against Romney and fight for them for more highway funds. They have advised him to hold off his announcement for at least a month, hoping someone else will jump in meanwhile."

The contractors will not throw their money behind Mackie if he decides on a congressional try, the informant said.

"They figure Mackie is so mad at Romney, he might run against him even if the polls show he could lose," said the informant. "They would support him, because then he could hammer at Romney in the open."

Almost Solid South Sighted For Goldwater

KINSTON, N.C. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's Southern field general said today the campaigning conservative can count on an almost solid South in his quest for the Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater, in the South for the first time as a declared candidate, meets North Carolina Republican leaders today at a $100-and-up breakfast in Fayetteville. About 125 are expected to be on hand for that private meeting.

Friday night, it was a $150-a-plate dinner at Kinston. Goldwater told some 1,200 people at a Junior Chamber of Commerce banquet he is tired of critics who judge Congress "not on the quality of what we do but on the quantity."

John Grenier, Southern regional director of the Goldwater campaign, said the South will be squarely in the Arizona senator's column at the Republican National Convention next July.

"We'll take 278 out of 279 delegates," Grenier said in an interview.

The holdout? "Winthrop Rockefeller in Arkansas. I assume he'll vote for his brother."

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is the only other avowed candidate for the GOP nomination.

Grenier, who is Alabama's Republican chairman, said Republican chairmen in 9 of the 11 Southern states have pledged their support to Goldwater.

He said North Carolina and Virginia are the only two whose GOP chairmen have not endorsed the Arizona senator.

Grenier insisted Goldwater's Southern base is solid despite the succession of Lyndon B. Johnson, a Texan, to the presidency.

Band Plays For 100th Birthday

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—"I'd like to hear a brass band," said Mrs. Ella Gants when a reporter asked her what she wanted for her 100th birthday.

So Friday morning, on her birthday, the 4th Division band from nearby Ft. Lewis appeared on the lawn of the nursing home where Mrs. Gant lives.

"I'll remember you in my prayers," Mrs. Gant told Maj. Gen. Claire E. Hutchin, the fort's commander.

Trial Of Hoffa Starts Monday

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Government and Teamsters Union lawyers confer with U.S. District Court Judge Frank Wilson today to iron out ground rules for Teamsters President James R. Hoffa's trial on jury-tampering charges, which begins Monday.

Hoffa said he thinks he can get a fair trial in Chattanooga. He flew here Friday, met briefly with lawyers, then went to Detroit to spend the weekend with his family.

He will be back Monday for the trial, which was transferred from Nashville after Hoffa contended he couldn't get a fair trial there because of unfavorable news stories.

At the airport Hoffa said, "A man can get a fair trial anywhere 12 people sit down who are not saturated with false propaganda." He said the Chattanooga newspapers had been fair in reporting developments here.

Hershey Agrees Draft Is Not Fair For All

ATLANTA (AP) — Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, agrees with lots of draftees that the system isn't fair to all.

Commenting on the decision to draft unmarried men before taking husbands, Hershey told newsmen in Atlanta:

"There isn't any justice in taking a young man and not an old man. But it's hard to find something for an old man to do (in the armed services)...the government must get what it can use."

Glenn Backers Hard At Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Senatorial candidate John H. Glenn Jr. says he will remain silent on political issues until he gets his release from the Marine Corps, but there is evidence his supporters already are hard at work.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, said petitions for the astronaut's Democratic candidacy would be in circulation in all of Ohio's 88 counties by Tuesday. He predicted victory for Glenn.

Hays was the most outspoken among Democrats who urged Glenn, 42, a lieutenant colonel, to resign from the nation's space program and return to his home state to enter politics.

Glenn made his announcement Friday at a hotel news conference and thus became a primary-election opponent of Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young, who had announced previously that he would seek re-election.

The announcement cast a cloud of uncertainty over the state Democratic preprimary convention, which will be held here Monday night. The agenda for the convention—at which Young will be the keynote speaker—includes endorsement of candidates for the primary.

Wallace Finds People Informed On Civil Rights

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George Wallace told a crowd of more than 250 applauding persons in Montgomery, Ala., on his return from an 11-day speaking tour in the West, that "the position of the people of Alabama...is better understood."

People in the West are waking up to the meaning of civil rights legislation pending in Congress, the Alabama governor said. He added that "people seemed disturbed over the property rights section of the civil rights bill."

Bomber Crash Fatal To Three

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP)—The body of T. Sgt. Melvin Wooten, 27, tail gunner on the B52 Strategic Air Command jet bomber that crashed near Cumberland Monday, was found Friday night.

Wooten, from Tohatchi, N.M., was the last member of the five-man crew to be accounted for. Maj. Robert L. Townley, 42, Gadsden, Ala., radar bombardier on the plane, died in the crash. The navigator, Maj. Robert L. Payne, 41, Tulsa, Okla., was found dead of exposure Wednesday after he had parachuted from the plane.

The pilot, Maj. Thomas W. McCormick, 42, Yawkey, W.Va., and the copilot, Capt. Parker C. Peedin, 29, Smithfield, N.C., were rescued after they parachuted to safety.

Wooten's body was found near West Salisbury, Pa., by a farm boy, Ronald Holler, 15, and his father, Kenneth.

Lt. Col. Neill T. Williams, SAC spokesman at the crash site said Wooten apparently had head injuries and a broken leg and died within an hour after he parachuted to earth.

NOT FOR GRINGOS, says a sign on the front of the Club 27 bar in Panama City, attesting to the anti-American feeling after last week's armed clash. The fighting claimed the lives of 23 persons. (AP Wirephoto)

Garden Board Studies Budget For New Year

GARDEN — The Garden Township Board of Education had its regular monthly meeting Jan. 13. Increased enrollment, rising costs, teacher's salaries and their effect on the budget for the coming school year 1964-1965 were discussed.

Supt. Harju feels a need to increase the salary schedule so Garden can better attract and hold qualified personnel. The 3 1/2 mill, which has been voted to give the full 8 mills required to receive State Aid will expire in 1964. There will be a need for extra millage to receive the full share of State Aid and to operate efficiently.

A more thorough study on the budget and salaries will be made by members before the February meeting.

Cary Grant 60 And Looks Good

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Cary Grant is 60 years old today. All of us should look so good at 60. Or even 40.

The screen's master of light comedy is the envy of every leading man in town—from 20 up. The years only seem to make him more handsome—and more Cary Grantish.

Health faddists continually beseech him for the secret of his Ponce de Leon formula.

"Once a research bureau sent me a whole questionnaire to fill out on how I kept looking youthful. I answered: 'I don't do a damn thing,'" Grant said.

But he does.

Cary doesn't smoke or drink. He's not a heavy eater. Mentally, he is the most youthful star in town. He's enthusiastic about his work — and enthusiastic about an Englishman named Archie Leach, who became Gary Grant.

"I try to keep my mind youthful in ideas," he said in an interview.

"I learn something new each year. In fact, I learn something new each day, if only not to behave the way I did the day before."

"I'm old enough to admit that I'm ignorant about a lot of things. Very few young people will admit to any ignorance."

For exercise, Gary swims and rides horses.

"It's less exertive—and keeps you out in the sun."

Bitter Weather Hurts Business

NEW YORK (AP) — Bad weather clouted business where it hurts during the week.

Production and sales skidded as the winter's worst snowstorm swept across the South, Midwest and East.

Vegetables in the Florida and Texas fields were threatened by freezing temperatures.

With the storm dumping up to 18 inches of snow in some areas, manufacturing was disrupted. Some plants were unable to open. Others operated with skeleton crews; some sent their workers home.

Plant closings were reported from New York to Illinois.

The American Trucking Association reported that the storm slowed deliveries in the Northeast to a near standstill. The Association of American Railroads said rail freight movement also was slowed. Air transportation was crippled.

Back To Normal
The storm was partially responsible for a drop in automobile production to an estimated 168,000 units from 175,521 the previous week.

After midweek the weather cleared and business returned to normal.

Attention continued to center on anticipated congressional action on the income tax reduction bill.

The Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York had this to say about the situation: "President Johnson's surprisingly low spending estimate for fiscal 1965 put an extra glisten on the already bright business outlook by further improving the chances for early passage of the tax reduction bill. Enactment in February now looks like a solid possibility."

Cigarette stocks had their first opportunity to react to the U.S. Public Health Service report that heavy cigarette smoking is harmful to health. They declined rather substantially at the opening of trading on the New York Stock Exchange on Monday but thereafter cut their losses.

Truckers Sign

The International Brotherhood of Teamsters and the nation's truckers reached agreement on an unprecedented master contract affecting more than 400,000 workers. The action averted a strike.

The three-year contract provides for a pay increase of 28 cents an hour spread over the contract period.

The Federal Reserve Board reported that the rate of production of the nation's mines and factories increased slightly in December. Its index of industrial production rose to 127.2 from 126.7 in November and was 7 per cent higher than a year earlier.

Another favorable development in December was the performance of retail sales, which rose to $21,548,000,000, a gain of 4 1/2 per cent over November and 6 per cent above December 1962.

For all of 1963 retail sales totaled $247,035,000,000, up 5 per cent from the 1962 total of $235,351,000,000.

The rate of unemployment fell in mid-December to 5.5 per cent of the labor force from 5.9 per cent in November. The Labor Department said the drop was due largely to lower unemployment among women and teen-agers who had been seeking part-time jobs.

Steel production made a strong advance during the week totaling 2.12 million tons, up 4 per cent from the 2,037,000 tons of the previous week.

The defense industry saw some business go glimmering when President Johnson submitted a request to Congress for $2.3 billion for weapons procurement and military research. This was less than was sought last year.

Deals for sale of U.S. grain to the Soviet Union continued to be made. Continental Grain Co. of New York announced it had sold more than $7 million of rice to the U.S.S.R. The company already had sold $78.5 million of wheat to the Russians. The Commerce Department issued licenses for export of an additional $13 million of wheat to the Soviet Union and $2.4 million of wheat to Czechoslovakia.

Teacher Attack Conviction Review Asked By Student

MENOMINEE — Counsel for Ted Gilbert, the 18-year-old Menominee High School student who was sentenced to serve 90 days in jail last Friday for assault and battery, has filed an appeal from that conviction to Menominee Circuit Court.

Gilbert's attorney said that since the sentence, matters have been brought to his attention which had not been brought to the attention of the court at the time of the sentencing. Gilbert was convicted of striking a high school teacher, Algernon Shearer, without provocation, while he was being transferred to another class. Shearer suffered a fractured back and concussion and is hospitalized. Gilbert's attorney is asking a review of the evidence. Gilbert is free on $200 bond pending the outcome of the appeal.

Medical examiner Dr. Gerald Sikorski said the man apparently had frozen to death.

Police did not suspect foul play, and theorized that Witt may have fallen and was unable to get up.

Escanaba Area Prepares Three Tourist Appeals

Fifty thousand copies of the new multi-color Escanaba Area tourist folder will be available for distribution soon, manager Lewke has informed directors of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce C-C President John Anthony said.

The folder will be distributed at travel shows, highway information lodges, AAA offices, Chambers of Commerce and travel bureaus and used in replying to direct mail inquiries. The Delta Reporter Printing Co. of Gladstone is printing the folders and it has been financed by Chamber members listed in two advertising inserts to be included with the folder. The inserts are being printed by Hebert's Offset Printing.

The Delta County tourist tabloid, published by the Escanaba Daily Press, will be ready for distribution for the start of the Midwest travel shows Feb. 1.

Plans are now being made for a new Delta County folder authorized by the Delta County Board of Supervisors.

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce will be participating in the Detroit, Chicago, Milwaukee and Minneapolis travel shows this year, Lewke said. These are the Boat, Sports and Vacation Show, Cobo Hall, Detroit, Feb. 1-9; Chicago Sports, Boat and Vacation Show, International Amphitheatre, Feb. 21-March 1; Milwaukee Sentinel Sports and Vacation Show, Milwaukee Arena, March 14-22; Northwest Boat, Sports & Travel Show, Minneapolis, March 27-April 5; and Detroit Sportsmen's and Vacation Show, Fairgrounds, March 27-April 5.

The Board heard a report on the Great Lakes Industrial Development Council meeting held at Madison Jan. 8-9 and 10 attended by Lewke. It welcomed to membership Kallio's Fareway Dinette, assigned to Mrs. Edith Kallio.

Delta Supports Dimes Telethon

The annual March of Dimes Telethon will begin over WLUC-TV Marquette, at 11 P.M. Delta County talent will be well represented on the show.

The Central Upper Peninsula Life Underwriters Ass'n with Joseph Wolfe will be in charge of the telethon with headquarters at the House of Ludington. Delta County residents will call ST 6-1616 to give their pledges, which will be relayed to the TV station by Tom Eleger and his staff of "ham" operators. Pledges can be called in as early as 10 p.m.

The Delta County telethon receipts in 1962 were $1,480. In 1963 $2,100. The goal for the 1964 Telethon for Delta County is $3,000.

"Contributions to the March of Dimes telethon are directly helping handicapped children and adults in Delta County and the U.P.," said chairman Myron Austad. "Last year over $20,000 was paid out in direct patient aid to 92 polio patients, eight birth defect patients, three arthritic patients and $5,500 in eleven health scholarships in the U.P."

U. S. DEPARTMENT of Agriculture citations for Cooperative Extension service were awarded to three Upper Peninsula veterans of Extension services provided by Michigan State University at a U. P. district Extension conference in Escanaba Thursday by Dr. A. W. Mowery, director of the MSU Extension Center at Marquette. Romney Tells Political Aims

The talk of Gov. George Romney to the National Press Club in Washington recently which noted Romney's availability for an authentic draft for the presidency has caused uncertainty which merits clarification, says John Walbridge, Delta County Republican chairman.

He release a statement from Governor Romney reviewing the Press Club statement, which was in answer to two questions: 1. "Are you now an active candidate seeking the Republican presidential nomination?"

Romney answer: "I have clearly indicated that I am not going to become an active party seeking the nomination."

2. "Supposing that a substantial, genuine sentiment for you is manifest before or at the convention, would you respond and be a candidate?"

Romney answer: "I have no way of knowing whether such a demand will develop and it would be presumptuous to assume that it will develop. However, if it should, like any concerned American, I'd of course have to accept. To do anything else would be sheer effrontery and refusal to accept duty."

Romney added this week: "I consider the likelihood of a draft at the Republican National Convention in July to be extremely remote. My position in regard to the presidential nomination has not changed in the slightest. I do not intend actively to seek it or to encourage it."

"But there is no disputing the fact that others have regarded me as a possibility for the nomination and that this development has turned the spotlight of national attention on Michigan. One result of this increased attention should be to aid in improving Michigan's national image. And the improvement of our national image is the key to the growth of our industry and the creation of the additional jobs which our state badly needs. It causes the nation to have greater interest in what we do and say . . ."

"Proper functioning of democracy requires fullest debate of issues affecting government and my purpose is to stimulate this discussion by accepting a limited number of out-of-state speaking engagements during the coming months. This will be done without neglecting my duties as governor of Michigan."

Pair Charged With Assault

Sheriff Cully Johnson has issued warrants for the arrest of two Hannahville men charging them with assault and battery against Norman McCullough, 31, also of Hannahville, who was severely beaten by the pair Friday afternoon.

Sheriff Johnson said that McCullough told him that about noon Friday the two men and himself were returning from Bark River when they turned their car onto County Road B-26, just south of Pulaski Park, and dragged him from the car.

McCullough said the pair kicked him, beat him and broke his glasses. In the struggle McCullough suffered a broken jaw, a broken nose and multiple bruises.

The two men then dragged McCullough back into their car and drove into Bark River where he managed to escape. He went to the home of a Bark River physician and was taken from there to St. Francis Hospital.

Sheriff Johnson said names of the two men would be withheld until they had been apprehended.

Hoffa's Contract

It well could be that James Hoffa's new contract for the Teamsters may set the national pattern for U. S. business and industry — a role previously held by the big steel companies.

Mr. Hoffa's new contract is unique in one respect; it covers 400 locals under a master contract, but leaves negotiations open for about 15,000 smaller trucking firms, which will be under pressure to meet the terms of the master contract.

The three-year contract calls for 28 cents an hour, 10 cents the first year, 8 cents the second year and 10 cents the third year, in wage increases, plus health, welfare and pension benefits, which amount to $5 per week.

It is obvious that the 400 firms that agreed to the master contract found it acceptable, otherwise there would have been a strike. It is equally obvious that the big 400 decided they could assume this wage package either through increased freight rates or the expansion of business by the elimination of the smaller competitors.

We are not worried about the big 400, but we are worried about the fate of the 15,000 smaller firms that now have an axe hanging over their heads. If we are to take Mr. Hoffa at his own word, he could care less. At a recent dedication of a Teamsters Union building in Escanaba, he stated that a company should meet wage demands or get out of business. In Mr. Hoffa's mind there is no such thing as a marginal operation, where employees and management seek a mutual, independent agreement for mutual survival. It would appear that his theory is that the rich should get richer and the poor should get poorer.

While this may be an efficient way of handling union business, it poses a threat for small business throughout the country. It would leave no room for the country store; the small, independent gas station operator, or the operator of a small manufacturing plant. All of these would go down the economic drain under pressure of the "master contract," under which the big operators would take over from the little ones.

If applied on a national scale by the unions, the Hoffa theory would result in the liquidation of hundreds of thousands of small businesses, including small town newspapers that already are struggling to meet the competition of the larger metropolitan newspapers.

It is our hope that the leaders of the other unions will not follow the Hoffa pattern, that they will realize there is room in this country for both big business and small business, and that small business, both for the good of management and the employees, has a fundamental right to live and survive and to serve the communities in which they exist.

The Hoffa pattern, if followed, will lead to absolute union domination of the national economy, the elimination of the free enterprise system as we have known it, and, probably, an ultimate takeover of the federal government and the White House. The end result is a labor dictatorship.

How to Find Out Which Way the Wind's Blowing

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The trouble in Panama resulted from a weak Panamanian president, a political campaign, a turn in the weather, hot-blooded students and a disciplined Castro-Communist organization, say U. S. experts privately.

It is a lesson in how effectively a small, well-prepared Red group can move in on a minor disturbance and build it into a dangerous situation. It was the more remarkable since the Communists have been banned in Panama for 10 years and their numbers are small. It can happen elsewhere in Latin America.

U. S. experts had been expecting a disturbance in Panama. They didn't know precisely where, or when, or what incident would be used as a fuse. But they knew Panama's Castro-Communists had completed their planning and were ready to act.

As is known, American students had set up the U. S. flag at their high school in the Canal Zone. Panamanian students entered the zone under police escort, planted their flag, were escorted away. Reports are that all this was orderly.

There is confusion over whether Communists engineered this student demonstration. Though a small minority, the Reds have control of the student organization at National University and perhaps at other schools. U. S. experts think the flag-carriers were nationalistic hot-blooded students with nothing more in mind.

Immediately after the flag incident, however, Castro-Communists moved in. They set up snipers who shot at Americans and Panamanians—to get Panamanians stirred up and to force Americans to return fire.

In less than an hour, as if by signal, a pro-Castro radio station went on the air with untrue but lurid stories of American troops "firing into unarmed students."

This was a signal for demonstrations in communities through Panama. Small groups of Reds used the radio atrocity stories to whip up local citizens.

The Reds also quickly worked up crowds of Panama City unemployed, discontented and always ready to riot about anything. They went on a rampage in the city, where 5,000 Americans live, destroying U. S. buildings, offices and automobiles.

U. S. experts say the rioting could have been nipped in the bud if Panamanian President Roberto Chiari had had the courage to step in fast. By the time he acted, the crowds had gotten out of hand.

The time was right for trouble in Panama. The weather takes a turn for the better in early January. This is normally a good season for demonstrations and riots.

There's an election coming up. Though it won't be until May 10, the candidates were required to file by the end of the second week in January.

Election fever begins to run high about now. No candidate or office holder can afford to be pro-Yankee or decry anti-American demonstrations between now and May.

Unemployment is high in Colon and Panama cities.

Many unemployed compare their slum life with the excellent living in the Canal Zone. Politicians and Communists assure poor Panamanians their lot is the result of the wealth the U. S. takes from them through "high Canal Zone profits." (Actually, the canal is a money loser).

Best guess is the Communists want weak, rabble-rousing, old ex-President Arnulfo Arias for president in the May election, even though he's reportedly not a Red.

Riots and fervent anti-Americanism would tend to discredit candidate Marco Robles, former minister of government and justice and friend of the U. S., who is backed by the present government.

Disorder also would work against candidate Juan Galindo, an engineer. But they're calculated to help Arias, the rabble-rouser.

The Castro-Communists are believed determined to do what they can to wreck the chances of Robles. They apparently had counted on using a weak, erratic Arias presidency to build their strength as they're now doing in Brazil under Joao Goulart.

HOSPITAL LISTS

As you say in your note after the letter to the Press concerning the closing of Cloverland Lodge, Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital did cut out the publishing of the names of patients admitted to the hospital. However the list of discharges are available to the paper so that people will know who has recently been a patient in the hospital.

I think this should be clarified. We still make it available but not at the time they are in the hospital. We feel that this serves the same purpose.

TEEN-AGE PROBLEM

After watching a program on television I would like to offer this suggestion to the teenagers of Escanaba.

I firmly believe that we teenagers between the ages of 17-21 need an establishment of our own devoted to and run by us. We would support this operation by regulations covering dues, dress, actions and language.

My proposal is this: 1. That we find a building sufficient to hold 200 or more persons for dancing, games and so forth.

2. That no alcoholic beverages be served.

3. That it be run by a board of teenagers and elected by us with two or three adult supervisors.

4. That dues be charged to members with non-members paying 25 or 50 cents extra.

5. That we bring in our own entertainment such as bands or local talent.

That any interested adult may visit, but may not take part except at designated times such as Parent Night.

This establishment would be similar to Club 314 with the exception that high school graduates up to age 21 only would be admitted.

TAXPAYERS VS. MUNICIPAL WORKERS?

Is this the result of the analysis by the editorial staff of the Escanaba Daily Press? We quote from your editorial of Jan. 2: "The force of the city employees' demand for pay increases is balanced in some measure by the force upon the Council of the city taxpayers opposing any increase in their taxes. The two forces are very inequal; however, that of the employees is organized and full of moxie and that of the taxpayers is unorganized and oh-so-earnest but usually ineffectual."

By what right, do you imply that municipal workers are not part of the taxpaying public? Ninety per cent of these employees are taxpayers. Therefore it appears the "modest means" taxpayer and city worker are one and the same.

We quote: "by the desirability of municipal investment in new facilities which neither the taxpayers nor the employees advocate, by economies opposed by the workers, by expenditures opposed by taxpayers." These taxpayers you speak about, that are opposed to expenditures, are these the same people who not so long ago voted to build a new county jail, build a new $3.5 million high school, finance a new community college, etc.?

"Economies opposed by the workers" — which economies? "Consolidation of the fire department and the police department in a department of public safety and other economies." You must have a man sized crystal ball when you can foretell economy in a departmental change that has been tried and rejected in other communities. The policemen and firemen do not make jobs, they fill the jobs that our city administration know is necessary for the protection of the community. How much safety are you willing to sacrifice for these economies? "Other economies" — let's cut services! How about eliminating sidewalk plowing; gar-

Mrs. Redeker's Sister Claimed

Word has been received by Mrs. Charles Redeker of the unexpected death Thursday of her sister, Mrs. Milton C. Baumann of Waverly Plantation, Proctor, Ark.

Mrs. Baumann, the former Clara Chartier, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Chartier, was born in Manistique July 3, 1903. She was a 1920 graduate of Manistique High School and graduated as a registered nurse from the University of Michigan in 1923.

Survivors, in addition to her husband are one daughter, Mrs. Allen (Elizabeth) Thompson of West Memphis; six grandchildren; four sisters, Mrs. Redeker, Manistique; Mrs. Ellen Holstrom and Catherine and Beatrice Chartier of Muskegon; and three brothers, Rock of Los Angeles and Francis of Rochester, Mich. Funeral services will be held at Waverly Plantation Monday.

Social

The Goodwill Club of Hiawatha met at the school Thursday. Following the business meeting, cards were played and prizes awarded Mrs. Leo Dean, Mrs. Maynard Blandford and Mrs. Agner Dehlin. The next meeting will be at the school with Mrs. Leo Dean and Mrs. Guri Johnson as hostesses.

At the meeting of the Atwater Extension Club Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Atwater, Mrs. Leslie Bouschor gave a lesson on making roses from egg cartons. Mrs. Atwater presented safety tips in the home. She cautioned not to mix ammonia and chlorine as the fumes can be disastrous. The February meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Rudy Brandstrom.

At the meeting of the Moms of America Thursday evening in the VFW clubrooms, a donation to the state board for the annual party was approved. Regional meetings of Moms of America will be held in Detroit Feb. 3 and Mar. 2. Mrs. Leo Chartier, secretary, reported on gifts and cards sent members and sons in service, at Christ mas. A social hour followed the meeting, with prizes awarded Mrs. Lorn Harding, Mrs. Vern Dixon and Mrs. Alex Cooper. Mrs. Lorn Harding received the special award. Lunch was served from a table centered with bouquets of flowers. Hostesses were Mrs. Clara Whitman, Mrs. Harriet Dixon and Mrs. Eva Chartier.

Announce 4-H Poster Contest Plans, Deadlines

March 1 is the deadline for completion of posters in the annual 4-H on parade contest. Local judging takes place the week of March 1-7 and winning entries for the county show should be brought to the County Extension office by March 13.

Winners will be selected from three age groups, 10-12, 13-14 and 15 and older. Any phase of 4-H activity may be used in poster themes. The posters will be used to publicize 4-H activities such as the chicken barbecue and spring achievement.

Local Council delegates or Mrs. Foster Cain may be contacted for further information. Awards will be $3 for first place in each of the three age groupings, $2 for second and $1 for third.

bagge pickup once every two weeks or maybe once a month and only in cans; airport, yacht harbor and library open, let's say, two days a week; parks and beaches open three days a week; eliminate ice rinks, ski hill, recreation center, city band, waterfront development; all utility services, including police and fire, no calls on weekends, etc.

Sounds ridiculous? Then you draw the line between services and economies. Better yet, let the taxpayers decide which services they want and what they are willing to pay to receive them but don't attempt to imply that city employees and taxpayers are opposite forces nor refer to them as pressure groups without including all the active pressure groups that make up a community.

It is a simple matter as you state for a city employee comparing his income with non-municipal workers to feel he is being treated unfairly when he is not afforded the privilege of being allowed to negotiate his requests in as dignified a manner as a non-municipal employee. To rephrase a line in your editorial, the best protection for the taxpayer — and for the councilmen — is the high quality of Escanaba Municipal Employees.

Ann Arbor's Apron Lowered Due to Water Level

Due to low water levels on Lake Michigan the Ann Arbor car ferry apron has been lowered eight inches at the hinge. The apron extends 50 feet, so the height at the "nose" will be even lower, George Stephens, superintendent notes.

The Ann Arbor car ferry comes in Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays. Work was done this week by the Ann Arbor bridge and building crew. It was completed Friday.

Mrs. Alphonse (Josephine) LaVigne, Saginaw Ave., received an unexpected $25 in the mail Friday from Bradenton, Fla.

Someone found an unpaid invoice from 1908 for Alphonse LaVigne, dating from days when he operated a candy and tobacco store at Garden. A former Garden resident wrote:

"I did not stand out prominently but I did have a habit of making notes of certain events. One notation which was lost and forgotten was a debt I contracted with your husband, Alphonse, at his candy and tobacco store. The amount is a little vague but if you will accept the enclosed, my best wishes go with it."

House of the Week

Split-Level 2-Story Appeal

CRISP AND RUSTIC: A covered portico, bow window and interesting roofline give this eight-room modified split level home a warm and welcoming appeal. The house contains three (or four) bedrooms, 2½ baths. It was designed by architect Samuel Paul.

A seemingly slight but extremely significant modification of split level building technique gives this economical home a low and handsome silhouette while retaining to a large degree on advantage more commonly found in two-story designs.

The advantage is twofold: ease of movement throughout the daytime activity areas; and clear separation of the sleeping area.

Unlike the usual split-level pattern, only four steps divide ies, contains eight nice size rooms in a modest basic area of only 1,154 square feet and over-all dimensions of 56' by 32' 10". It would fit comfortably on a 75' by 85' plot.

An important feature of the house is its balance. It seems to contain just the right amount and disposition of all the elements necessary for comfortable contemporary living.

Included are four bedrooms (or three bedrooms and a den), two full baths, an additional lavatory, a kitchen with dinette space, attached garage, screened porch, and a private balcony off the master bedroom.

The exterior is crisp and streamlined with a rustic contemporary flavor. Because of the roof design it appears larger than it really is.

The main entrance is sheltered by a wide portico roof and is located at the ground level, a full story below the bedrooms. This also gives the home a distinctive two-story appearance.

A large foyer with double coat closets flows indoors from the portico and funnels traffic neatly to all areas of the house. The living room is four steps above the foyer, and an attractive iron railing separates the two.

A glamorous cathedral ceiling stretches across both the living room and adjoining dining room. The two rooms also are well ventilated from three directions—the handsome bow window in front, the large window in the rear of the dining room, and the window on the side wall.

An inviting stone fireplace, visible from the foyer, is the focal point of the formal area. A second staircase links the kitchen and family room, joining the two in an integrated but clearly separated informal area.

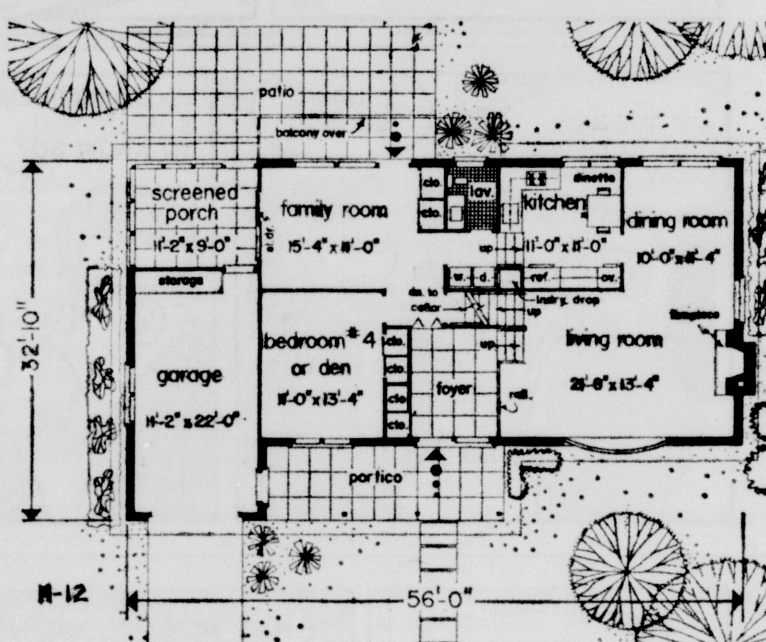

The kitchen has ample space for a dinette. Architect Paul suggests that a built-in settee under the double window might be an interesting arrangement—giving the housewife a place to relax as she makes out the grocery list.

A downstairs lavatory is well placed near the kitchen, convenient to the backyard as well as the entire lower level. An alcove across from the lavatory is a convenient location for the laundry equipment—and note the handy laundry drop.

Toss the soiled clothes in the bottomless "hamper" in the main bath upstairs, and they wind up within arms reach of the washer.

The family room has outdoor entrances on two sides. Adjoining the rear entrance is a double closet, placed in just the right spot. Sliding doors lead to the screened porch, extending the function of the FLOOR PLANS: The basic area (lower floors) is 1,154 square feet of living area and the upper floor 616 square feet. The house contains a 587-square-foot cellar. Over-all dimensions are 56' by 32' 10" and the architect recommends a 70' by 85' plot.

PRACTICAL AND ELEGANT: A soaring cathedral ceiling stretches across the living and dining rooms of this home and adds to the dramatic view from the foyer. Only four steps separate the foyer and living room, and an attractive iron railing adds glamor.

'Adding To' May Be Costly

AP Newsfeatures
Women often are attracted to a house for sentimental reasons. They will jump at the chance to buy a house that has charm and one outstanding feature, and so many other drawbacks that it doesn't even make sense. Sometimes there isn't even room for the family.

"We can always add to it," are famous last words that have made some families miserable.

For one thing — you can't always add to it.

And for another — you can't always afford to add to it.

There is a notion among house buyers that if you buy an eight-room house for say $32,000 that you should certainly be able to add additional rooms at less than $4,000 each. This doesn't always work out.

Adding to a house can be a rich man's hobby, unless he can get materials at cost and do the work himself, or he lives in an area where labor is very cheap.

People who have had the experience of putting additions to a structure say they were appalled at the cost. In many cases they found it far better to sell the house and move to a larger one.

There are other reasons for deciding against an addition. If it is tacked on to a tiny house in a tiny-house neighborhood, it may look off base. Many people do not like the big-fish-in-a-little-pond look, so the improvement may not increase the value of the house when the time comes to sell it.

Even if one has lots of land so that he could add without affecting the original appearance of the house, an addition is very serious business. As costs of materials rise, we may not be able to duplicate the look of the old dwelling.

There is a wide margin in bids in the same neighborhoods, in some instances. Local carpenters often work for much less than high-powered contractors with big overhead.

Local men have learned how to cut corners, and often are willing to employ ingenuity that can save their neighbors money. But a contractor with a big overhead may make the cost of adding to the house such a financial burden that you can't carry it.

A recent case in point are two houses, one-quarter of a mile from each other.

One addition by a local carpenter was a room 15 by 15 with a closet at a cost of $3,300 and a bathroom at a flat fee of $1,200. The other house had a room 15 x 20 feet, several closets and a deluxe bathroom with built-in basin and dressing table. The cost — $12,000, half the cost of the original house.

The owner of the more expensive addition admitted that he could never get his money out of the house if he were to sell. But meanwhile the addition conforms to the house and the family loves it.

The less-expensive addition was done with wallboard instead of plaster and some other inexpensive features. But it falls into the pattern of the rest of the home.

Whenever there is the remotest idea that the house may not serve in the future unless it has additional rooms, it is well to discuss it with an architect or builder before purchasing it.

This was done recently by a couple who planned to buy a romantic looking little salt box for $26,000 (including four acres of choice land worth around $10,000). The wife talked so much about adding to the little house that her husband finally insisted that she find out for herself how much it would cost.

She wanted to add about 10 x 20 feet to the living room, requiring the removal of an existing wall, making use of a foundation that was laid for a terrace. She was amazed at the estimate of $9,000.

They couldn't swing it, and the woman had to admit that she couldn't be happy with the small living room. They are big people, their furniture is large and her husband finally confessed that the low-beamed ceilings made him feel uncomfortable.

Court Awards $142,735 To Byron Farmer

BAY CITY (AP) — U.S. District Court here Friday awarded James Oxley, former operator of a farm near Byron in Shiawassee County, damages of $142,735 against the Ralston Purina Co.

Oxley sought $206,000, claiming the company breached an oral contract in a five-year experimental project in which he was to raise breeding pigs and lease the pigs to farmers.

Judge Stephen J. Roth upheld Oxley's claim that he had carried out his part of the contract but that the company had left Oxley to rescue what he could from the project.

The court found that the company agreed to supply food supplement and other forms of supplies, obtain leasing farms and take all Oxley's surplus stock. Oxley said he lost his farm in the project.

Firm Will Build 22-Story Motor Hotel In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A $4.5 million, 22-story motor hotel and parking structure will be built in downtown Detroit, a real estate developer announced.

Construction will start on the hotel, which will occupy the site of the former Greyhound Bus Terminal, in the fall of 1965, said developer M. E. Arden.

When the building is completed, Arden said, Service Parking Grounds will be offered a lease on the lower six floors for parking up to 420 cars. A national motel and hotel chain will operate the 16 stories of the building which will contain 400 rooms, a restaurant, cocktail lounge, swimming pool, and penthouse, he said. He declined to name the hotel firm.

Potato Glut To Be Eased

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department was urged Friday to relieve a potato glut in northern Michigan by initiating a government purchase program.

The department should begin buying surplus potatoes at the earliest possible time for distribution to families on public welfare rolls, Rep. John B. Bennett, R-Mich., said.

"There is a serious surplus of potatoes in the (state's) Upper Peninsula," Bennett said in a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

"In the Houghton County area, one of the principal producing areas of the state, only 5 per cent of the 1963 crop has been sold and prices have fallen to disastrous levels."

Bennett said both the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee and the Michigan Potato Industry Council have recommended that the department use its authority to buy surplus potatoes.

Bennett, asserting he support the recommendations, said: "The Michigan Potato Industry Council reports that the few sales made in Houghton County have been at prices of from $1.10 to $1.30 per hundred-weight FOB for U. S. No. 1 round white potatoes as compared with $1.65 to $1.85 per hundredweight being paid for the same grade of potatoes in growing areas closer to the Detroit market."

Growers with heavy investment in farms and equipment, Bennett said, find themselves in grave economic distress through no fault of their own.

Society Gets New Building

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Geographic Society — after 75 years of digging into the world's past and present secrets — has some new, proud diggings of its own.

The society — with help from President Johnson — dedicates its new headquarters building today and with it a new museum of science and discovery called Explorers Hall.

For a frontispiece, the society has reduced the world to an 11-foot, 1,000-pound sphere — unlike the real thing, completely under control. A console provides this huge globe with special effects.

The globe dominates Explorers Hall — and is set in a black granite reflecting pool, where it rotates on its axis. Among the special effects possible through the console's operation: a satellite spinning about the earth.

The operator of the control console can also project images on the globe's surface — for instance an outline map of Texas on the globe's Alaska can show that Alaska is the biggest state. The Mississippi can likewise be compared directly with the Amazon River.

Besides the globe, the museum sports life-size displays — an underground ceremonial chamber of the Pueblo Indians, a plastic face overlaying the skull of Zinjanthropus suggests the appearance of a mummy who lived 1.75 million years ago.

All of these and others are the discoveries of famous explorers and scientists who have carried the National Geographic's colors into every corner of the world.

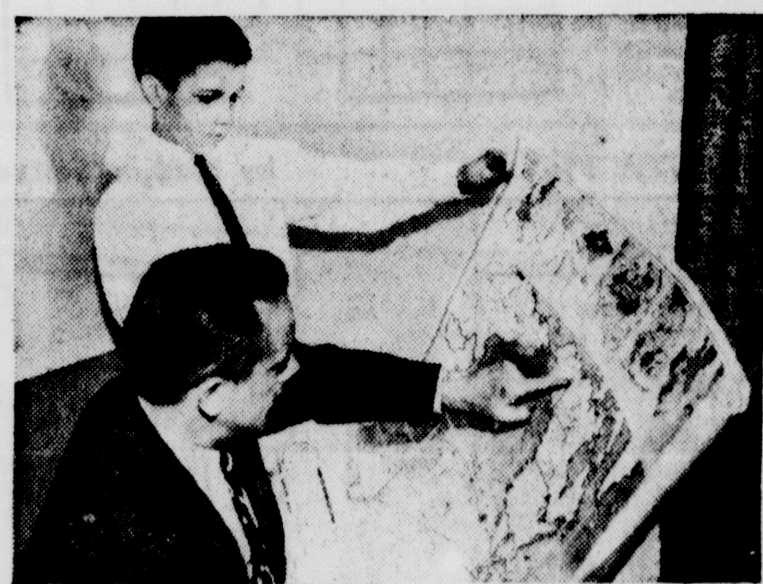

Construction of the building designed by Edward Durrell Stone was started April 20, 1961. It adjoins the society's old headquarters about six blocks north of the White House.

Teacher Pension Boost Proposed In Senate Bill

LANSING (AP) — Retired teachers who served at least 30 years would get a $600 boost in their pension to $1,800 a year under a proposal by five state senators.

A retired teacher who worked between 10 and 30 years would be paid increased benefits under a sliding scale based on years of service. No pension would be less than $60 for each year of service, however, a rate that is $20 higher than the present minimum.

Sens. Kent Lundgren, R-Monroe, Garry Brown, R-Schoolcraft, Harold Hughes, R-Clare, William Leppien, R-Saginaw and Charles McManiman, D-Houghton, sponsored the bill.

Ann Landers

College Changes Shy Student

Dear Ann Landers: Our son graduated from high school last Spring at 16. He was an honor student, somewhat shy, and slow to make friends. We were hopeful that college would bring him out a little.

A few days ago Richard came home for the first time since he left for Oberlin in September. My husband and I were dumbfounded. Now every other sentence has a hell or a damn in it. Richard never used language like that and we were pretty upset.

My husband and I decided to ignore his cussing although it was not easy. No one talks that way around our home. The question is: If Richard is still cussing when he comes for Easter what should we do? — R. W. T.

Dear R. W. T.: Poor Richard is trying awfully hard to show you he has grown up. He thinks sprinkling his conversation generously with cuss words will do it.

If he's still helling and damning by Easter have a frank talk with him. Tell him profanity is a crutch for conversational cripples.

Dear Ann Landers: I am the mother of four lively boys. The eldest is eight, the youngest is two. Anyone who has boys knows it is normal for at least one out of four to be banded at all times.

My husband's sister makes her home with us. Nellie is a little old-maidish and she has a tendency to stir up trouble now and then.

Whenever one of the boys bangs or bumps himself Nellie brings up the injury at the supper table then says to my husband,

"Where was their mother when it happened?"

My husband then begins to question me, as if I had not done my duty. This is very irritating. I'd like your advice on what to say the next time it happens — which will probably be tomorrow. — NOT UBIQUITOUS

Dear Not: You need not defend yourself whenever one of the boys scabs his knee, so please don't try.

The next time Nellie asks your husband where you were when "it happened" tell her you were playing poker in the back of the poolhall — as usual. That should clear her sinuses.

Dear Ann: If I'm square, stuffy or old-fashioned please tell me.

I came here from a small town eight months ago. I was lucky and got a job as stenographer. Three of the girls I work with have an apartment. When I was invited there for dinner last week I was surprised to find they have dishes, silverware, table linens, hand towels, bath towels, bath mats, ash trays, and even a waste basket from some well-known hotels.

All these articles are clearly labeled so I asked the girls how they managed to get the items out. "One piece at a time" was the answer.

When I said I didn't think this was honest they really let me have it. I was told that hotel prices are pegged to absorb that sort of shrinkage because "everyone does it." What about this? — DUMMY

Dear Dummy: That sort of "shrinkage" is called stealing.

And everybody doesn't do it. These girls may think they are sophisticated or cute, but when guests see hotel property in their apartment it simply advertises the fact that they are thieves.

Emeralds Sideline Negaunee's Miners

MANISTIQUE — The Manistique Emeralds used the free throw line as a deadly weapon here last night in a 71-63 triumph over Negaunee.

Coach Rudie Brandstrom's cagers squared their season record at five victories against five setbacks by tripping the Miners in Great Lakes Conference action.

The teams locked in a thrilling dog-fight with first one and then the other gaining a

Hematites Trip Gladstone Quint On Final Spurt

GLADSTONE—The streaking Ishpeming Hematites kept their Great Lakes string alive here Friday night by defeating the Gladstone Braves 64-53.

The Hematites, who dropped four of their first six starts this season, have now won their last four games against Great Lakes foes. They return to action tonight in a home stand against Stephenson.

Coach Bill Wood's Braves were off to an impressive start last night, leading 14-6 midway in the period and 21-18 at the end of the frame. The Hematites rallied to go ahead 34-33 at the half.

Ishpeming led throughout the third period. The Braves made their final bid midway through the fourth quarter when they narrowed their deficit to 56-53, but couldn't maintain the pace.

Gladstone suffered its sixth setback of the season largely because of inability to hit the bucket from close range. The

Redskins Whip Alpha Quintet By Big Margin

HERMANVILLE — Coach Don Hill's Hermansville Redskins turned in one of their top performances of the season here Friday night, handing Alpha an 81-57 setback in the Big Eight conference race.

With Ron Povofo triggering the attack, the Redskins shot out to an early lead and were never headed. They turned the game into a rout in the fourth quarter in which they trampled the outclassed Mastodons 26-12.

Povofo, a deadly shooting junior guard, had his most productive game of the season. He pumped home 13 field goals and the same number of free throws for 39 points.

That boosted his season scoring total to 251 in nine starts.

Povofo had his biggest period in the third when he tallied 13 of Hermansville's 19 points. Alpha lost the services of star performer Ron Lepisto in that period on personal fouls.

The Redskins played without the services of regular Harry Gordon who was ill. Bill Polazzo filled in capably.

The Redskins hit on 26 of 53 field goal attempts for 41 per cent and poured in 29 of 43 free throw opportunities.

The victory was Hermansville's seventh against two de-

Princeton Cager Is Still A Star

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nick Werkmann, the nation's leading college basketball scorer, for Seton Hall last year, is a virtually forgotten player these days. Not so Bill Bradley of Princeton's Ivy League champions.

Werkmann is not among the top ten scorers this season while the latest NCAA statistics rank Bradley third.

The Princeton star, hailed as one of the greatest sophomores in the country a year ago and improved now as a junior, turned in a spectacular one man show Friday night to lead the Tigers to a 87-82 victory over Cornell at Ithaca.

Bradley scored 49 points on 16 field goals and 17 of 20 free throws to set an all-time Ivy League record. In addition the 6-foot-5 native of Crystal City, Mo., grabbed 14 rebounds and handed out four assists.

Bradley's performance, perhaps the best individual single game effort this season, overshadowed the 14th straight triumph for UCLA, the nation's temporary lead. Negaunee started strong but the Emeralds rallied to go ahead 13-9 at the end of the first period.

Manistique retained command through the second period but the invading Miners charged out front in the third.

Midway through the fourth quarter the Emeralds edged in to a 56-53 lead and they spurred down the stretch to win going away. Jon Cameron paced the late drive with 11 points while Ken Blowers chipped in eight.

Although they were outscored by four field goals, 20 to 16, the Emeralds took advantage of 27 Negaunee personal fouls to click on 39 of 47 free throw attempts. That fabulous shooting performance was headed by Blowers who canned 14 straight gift shots.

Blowers led three Emeralds in high double scoring figures with 26 points. Cameron followed with 20 and Jim McDonough added 14. Parlato and Maino reached double figures for Negaunee.

The victory kept the Emeralds among the GLC leaders with a 5-2 record. The setback dropped Negaunee to a 4-3 mark in the conference.

Negaunee won the jayvee game 58-54 in overtime.

Jan Farley gave the taller Trojans a battle on the boards and chipped in 16 points for Garden. The Jets were again paced in the scoring column by Barry Rochefort with 21 points.

Garden won from the free throw line where the Jets canned 16 of 26 shots. They were outscored by two field goals but Cedarville made only five of 13 foul shots.

Preps Pull Few Cage Surprises

By The Associated Press

All of the top-rated teams in the Associated Press high school basketball poll proved their mettle Friday night by winning big.

The only notable upset was in Class C, where seventh-ranked New Haven clipped No. 4 rated Capac, 68-65, behind Dwight Lee's 27 points. It was the second loss this year for Capac, which lost to arch-rival Imlay City in five overtimes earlier this week.

Lansing Sexton held firm to its top Class A spot by trouncing Kalamazoo Central, 89-61, and second-ranked Benton Harbor got 30 points from L. C. Bowen to down Traverse City, 87-64. Third-ranked Pontiac Central blitzed Bay City Handy, 81-59.

Irwin Powles tossed in 39 points as Riverview crushed Detroit Lutheran West, 77-68, for the night's high point performance.

In a couple of other high point efforts, Larry Hammock scored 33 points in Muskegon Heights' 90-86 victory over Holland, and Larry Mayfield also netted 33 as Flint Northern bombarded Flint Southwestern, 85-65.

River Rouge maintained a tight grip on first place in Class B action with a 66-56 victory over Twin Valley rival Ecorse. Second-ranked Comstock overcame a 10-point deficit going into the fourth quarter to whip Hickory Corners Kellogg, 67-62, behind Bernie Vallier's 25 points. Flint St. Michael's, in the No. 3 spot, had little trouble in defeating St. Matthew, 86-76.

Thirteen Grosse Pointe St. Paul players shared in the scoring as the Class C leader whipped Detroit St. Catherine, 71-46. Detroit St. Charles, ranked No. 2, blitzed Detroit St. Martin, 99-45, and third-ranked Galien ran into a stall, but had little trouble in downing New Troy, 48-26, behind Dick Schrupp's 27 points.

Class D's top-ranked Port Huron St. Stephen had a rough go before it tipped Crosswell-Lexington, 67-64. Bloomington, which shares the number one spot with St. Stephen, easily outdistanced Lawton, 66-50. Lawton lost six players on personal fouls and finished the game with only three men on the floor.

Wayne State may have withdrawn from the President's Athletic Conference too soon.

The Tartars won their first basketball game since 1962 to highlight the action on the state's college basketball stage Friday night.

Wayne got 22 points each from Tom Carlson and Fred Wolcott in whipping PAC foe Thiel, Pa., 91-77.

In other games, Eastern Michigan beat Allegheny, Pa., 87-72; Calvin walloped Albion, 114-86; Rochester Tech, N.Y., edged Detroit Tech, 72-66, and Malone, Ohio, tripped Spring Arbor, 73-65, at Canton, Ohio.

In two overtime tilts, Taylor, Ind., nipped Hillsdale, 94-92, and Mankato State, Minn., drubbed Michigan Tech, 86-69.

The Tartars ended a 16-game losing streak by scoring more points than they have in three years. Wayne, which announced plans Thursday to withdraw from the PAC by 1965, posted its last victory on Dec. 12, 1962.

Open Tennis Will Get Try

NEW YORK (AP) — "How do we know something is bad unless we try it?"

With this question, Edward Turville Jr., president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association, announced support Friday for Britain's move to hold an experimental open tournament at Wimbledon.

The British Lawn Tennis Association said it would go before the International Federation at Vienna in July to seek permission to give open competition a try in 1965 and 1966. The international group has blocked such a move in the past.

"I think it would be great if somebody gave this idea a trial," Turville said. "If Britain is willing to attempt it at Wimbledon, which is regarded as the citadel of the game, I say good luck to them."

"I feel certain our delegate, Vic Denny, will support Britain at the Vienna meeting."

Open tennis will be one of the chief topics at the annual USLTA meeting in Corpus Christi, Tex., starting Feb. 15.

Finley To Take Case To Court

NEW YORK (AP)—Confident of a legal victory, Charles O. Finley has started plans for a court battle over the right to move his Kansas City Athletics to Louisville.

Finley already has lost once—to the American League club owners who on Thursday voted 9-1 to refuse Finley permission to transfer his franchise. The stormy owner announced his intention to go to court following the vote.

"I don't enjoy these fights," Finley said Friday, "but I feel confident everything will turn out well. I don't think there's an owner in the American League who doesn't feel that I'm fighting for what I think is right."

"I am confident I can win. But in some ways even if I beat them I lose because baseball loses and I'm part of baseball. But I'll sacrifice to straighten some of these things out."

County Board Holds Meeting

At a recent meeting of the Luce County Board of Supervisors the Luce County Treasurer was authorized to transfer from the general fund to the Luce County Board of Social Welfare the sum of $3,769. Disbursements include $389.80 for administration, $1,568.90 for hospitalization and $1,812.30 for State direct relief.

C. D. Zagelmeier and Ray Knauf were present at this meeting, and requested that the Luce County Airport be kept open during the winter. It was pointed out that due to Newberry being somewhat isolated with no passenger train service and no bus line, Knauf indicated there have been instances where it has been necessary to take the sick or seriously injured to larger hospitals by air.

The Luce County Road Commission at a later meeting with the Board of Supervisors determined that the airport could be kept open all winter at an estimated figure of $200 and this was accepted by the board.

Rabbiting Hard To Beat Here For Winter Fun

By JEAN WORTH

Rabbits are rodents and so are rats, but you'd better not let a rabbit hunter catch you saying it or they'll have your hair to hang beside their bag of rabbits as trophies of the hunt.

And children, of course, would deeply resent any suggestion that Br'er Rabbit, that hoppin' hero of the cabbage patch and cause of Farmer McGregor's ulcers, is a rat.

The rodent family of gnawing mammal is the most numerous of all the mammal group in nature and it includes the squirrels, gophers, chipmunks, beavers, woodchucks, porcupines and other mammals, as well as the mice and rats.

The persons who think that the rodents may take over from the human race as masters of the world don't include most rabbit hunters. They're a little worried about the plenty of the coneys. They say that they don't kill as many as they used to when things were better — when there were more rabbits and fewer people — but it's noticeable that they still kill bunnies and bays and bagsful of both cottontails and varying hares in the Upper Peninsula.

Peter's Folks

The cottontails are to be found near settlement and the hares in the out country and forest lands. Cottontails like to be near Farmer McGregor and the hares like the great spaces and the deep forest. Cottontails wear the same coat all year, with a slight change in color, but hares, as their name indicates, vary. In summer they're brown and in winter they're white to blend with the snow cover and make them less easy prey of the owls and foxes.

There are many rabbit hunting clubs in the Upper Peninsula and it is likely that there will be many more in the future as men — and women too — discover the delight of this sport. It is at its best in the winter. With marshes frozen the dogs can go anywhere and they bell the swamps like descendants of Baskerville, scaring the hell out of the rabbits and driving them to the hunters.

With many men in retirement, rabbit clubs which once hallooed and hollered only on weekends now operate throughout the week. The men stand on woodland roads and watch the jets go over in the blue sky and note the beginnings of spring in the budding trees and listen to the music of the hounds, Beagles and Black and Tans, Blue Ticks and Red-bones.

Brother Beagles

The Dells Beagle and Coney Club is one of the Escanaba area's well known rabbit hunting organizations, a loose knit association of goodfellows who like to hear the dogs run on winter afternoons. Charles Gafner of Danforth, a retired Escanaba market operator, has the Beagles, three brothers named Tippi, Buster and Duke, and they work together like Damon and two Pythias. Orrie Wells owned the hounds and was training them in a swamp near his home when he suffered a fatal heart attack and Mrs. Wells gave them to Gafner, a friend, who says they're the greatest.

Some hunters like a mixed pack to cope with the deep snows of late winter, when the Beagles have to resort to tunneling or hurdling, but long legged hounds tend to overrun the sharp nosed little Beagles if they're worked together. The rabbits think they're all dreadful, but there are so many rabbits and they multiply so fast that the hounds learned many generations ago that if there's going to be a population explosion it'll have the country up to its armpits in rabbits and not hounds.

Members Of Hunt

Members of the Dells Club are Jules Flath, of that popular Super Club establishment; Henry DePuydt, a bulldozer operator who finds rabbiting a pleasant winter relief from working the controls; Joseph Schleis, the warehouse owner; Emil Gafner, the manufacturer; Donald Lehouillier, Orton Degeneffe, Chet and Ronnie Sivertsen, Mel Bertrand, Peter Kostor, Rev. Philip Kueckhahn and others.

Rabbit hunters make more

RABBIT HUNTERS can be as fond of their sport as duck hunters, squirrel hunters, or 'coon hunters and here some of the members of the Dells Beagle & Coney Club pose with the bag of an afternoon's sport. From left: Don Lehouillier, Charles Gafner, Emil Gafner, Henry DePuydt, Jules Flath and Joseph Schleis. The rack was set up for display, but the truck bears the little hut which the hunters leave in the woods to shelter their hounds when they can't be found at going home time.

DON LEHOULLIER, left, and Charles Gafner, warm themselves before a bonfire while they're waiting for Gafner's Beagles to bring them a hare. The aim of rabbiting is pleasure and the rabbits are only a part of the fun and sometimes incidental.

excuses than even duck hunters, says Charles Gafner. This is part of the fun, it seems. Conditions are never quite right, even when the pickups go home brimming with bunnies. Right now it's hard for the dogs to work because the snow is old and tracked up like a depot floor. Some new snow is needed to inspire the dogs and refresh the sport.

The club chooses a different place to hunt each day and it has ranged down Cedar River way and out to Cornell, Flat Rock, Perronville and Danforth. Variety adds to the fun, like when Irwin Ten Haken shot a fox chasing the rabbit ahead of the dogs recently. Bobcat presence adds to the excitement, too.

Just An Excuse

When the men start the day's run they usually halloo a bit to let the deer in the area know they're out. The deer move out and the dogs aren't tempted to follow their strong scent and devote themselves to the hares. Several times a year the hunters have a rabbit dinner at the Dells and invite guests to enjoy the game. "We'd better enjoy it while we've got it," says Charlie Gafner. "Twenty years ago it was nothing for a gang to knock off 50 or 60 in a day, but now if you get 10 it's pretty good."

How about the fun? "I think there's even more of it," said Gafner, "after all, the rabbits are only on excuse!"
